

Dear President José Manuel Barroso,

the 7th June 2005 I activated a campaign on my blog www.beppegrillo.it, that receives more than 50 thousand visitors every day, to draw attention by the European Parliament on the Italian Parliament situation.

Twenty three Italian deputies have been condemned by the Italian Justice in a definitive way.

A deputy cannot represent the citizens if he's been condemned by the Italian Justice in a definitive way.

More than 14 thousand emails were sent to you (you can find them in the attached CD) to demonstrate their dissent and to ask your help.

Giving a signal on this situation does not mean standing for a political side or other, it means to stand for democracy.

More than 14 thousand people asked you a signal, a thought as a free person, not as a politician.

If there isn't personal freedom, how is it possible to have freedom all around Europe?

Hope to have a signal from you.

Best Regards.

Beppe Grillo
